“Heal the sick.” That’s the command Jesus gave His disciples. He didn’t just give that command to those who were His disciples at that time, it still applies to all His disciples today. Jesus said, “And these signs will follow those who believe: In My Name… they will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover.” (Mark 16:17-18) That command is for you too.

In this book, Tom de Wal shares his personal journey to successfully obeying that command that Jesus gave us. This book comprises the following:

- Five foundations of the healing ministry
- Four important decisions you will have to make if you want to bear fruit in the healing ministry
- Five practical instructions for you to see people get healed.
